

Killing elk that are "in the way of development" is a sad, temporary answer to a man-made problem. It's better to find a more permanent problem and not have to kill wildlife that has lived in the area for many generations.

Thank you for your consideration.