

There are too many demands on our water resources. Water is necessary for life and it is being degraded and wasted for the profit of a few.