

PLEASE please please pass this bill. Part 1: The fact that there isn't already an investigation that goes into the potential officer's character, behavior and mental health before training is not only a huge liability to the law enforcement and law enforcement agency itself, but has put the entire community in danger time and time again. How many deaths, abuse of power, or misconduct could have been prevented if the persons who were being hired went through an investigation before hand.

Part 2: Police misconduct has been hidden, looked over, or dismissed by their own agency for far too long. The community deserves a way to log and report their personal experience of ANY form of misconduct, sexual, racial, physical. A hotline might track these reports and not have them disappear within the system.
