To whom it may concern:

I believe measure 11 is too harsh in most cases. Not all. This was my or is my first time in trouble. I drove a car unknowingly that a robbery of a home of a drug dealer was going to be committed. I knew after the fact and believe I had responsibility to remove myself or inform someone and I did neither. Yes I should be in trouble for that but not to the extent of (70 months) almost 6 years of my life day for day. I have lost family and will probably lose my parents before I get out. I just want to get my life back and be a productive member of society. I have met many and I mean many good men in here
