

There is no need to arm law enforcement as though they are participating in a war of some sort. LE armed like this only escalates situations. We should also not be spending money on military equipment when there are continual budget shortfalls for things that actually help people.