

Landowners should not be restricted from growing food. It's a super basic right and any legal burdens that are in place should be removed.