

Southern Oregon has been hit hard the last couple years. The last thing we should be doing is raising taxes while our small businesses try to make a comeback from Covid.