

I STRONGLY SUPPORT WITHOUT AMENDMENT

Students are more frustrated than even having public schools fail them during the shutdown. Parents are seeking the best way to get them back on track and the state should not stand in their way. If virtual schools have the capacity, let parents make the choice. Teacher's Unions do not have my child's best interest in mind or they would support opening schools.