

While letting Portland burn with criminals for the last year I find it very disturbing that this legislature would focus on making law abiding citizens into criminals. This is another example of "feel good" legislation that does nothing to address criminals or crime - in fact it does the opposite by making it more likely that people like myself who try to follow the law will fail on some technicality. Criminals do NOT obey laws.