

The capital should not be passing new laws with the people locked out.