

First off I just want to say that I love my job and the people that I take care of and for that reason I have been at my job for a while and have worked in this field for many years but one of the biggest things that I have ran into is that I am just not getting paid enough for doing what I do, where as people at fast food places make almost more than $15 an hour whereas hi happily show up to try and make a difference in my guises life every day for what I feel I'm getting paid The bare minimum, I have been in this field like I've said for many years but I almost found myself leaving because I was not getting paid enough and I do not wanna find myself in that boat because I feel that I do make a difference in my guises life and that the duties that we perform are a lot more high maintenance than your normal job. Thank you and I hope you all have a great day.
