

I like doing my DSP's job because I feel happy supporting people who need help to fulfill the basic daily needs. I am part of the amazing team of DSPs who change the life of other people in needs. My job allows other people to enjoy their life, achieve their goal and keep hope for the future.

It can make a positive impact on your business. Keeping your loyal, hardworking, skilled, top producing, happy workers with lots of potential around is well worth the investment.

As a Direct Support Professional, my job helps change the lives of people I support positively.

A pay raise can help me afford the increase in life expenses, boost my morale, and encourage me to keep with hard work in supporting my clients.

Thank you.
