

I was told about an energy work and emotional freedom technique by a life coach that saved my life after my mom died very unexpectedly at only 57. I wanted to end my life and counseling was not helpful. This literally changed that for me and I've gone on to give the book away to people since then and share my story. We need the freedom to CHOOSE what care we want as individuals.