

I oppose Amendment 8. During a climate emergency, to invest much needed moneys into systems that perpetuate inadequate transit systems hinges on absurdity. We all have to start thinking outside of the box, most especially the Department of Transportation. We need solutions to road -evoked green house gas emissions now, not later, and certainly not after we create more pathways for more vehicles to pollute our air.