

This is Oregon's opportunity to sets clear, achievable targets for reducing emissions from Oregon's electricity grid, establish strong labor standards for new clean energy projects, create investments and opportunities for community-based renewable energy projects, and to ensure affordable and reliable electricity.