

Businesses in Oregon have been a target for taxes these last several years and it is crushing any opportunity to survive in our present troubled times. It is imperative that this tax is not passed and that any needed revenue is gained by cost reductions in our present budget.