

Oregon does not need to tax these people and businesses who received help during the pandemic.