

To whom it may concern,

This type of behavior from any person in any kind of elected or appointed position is disgraceful and an abuse of their position. It is a failure on their part to uphold their duties and responsibilities. My values of good citizenship dictate that any person behaving in this or similar manner be expelled from any type of public office.

Sincerely, Patricia A Nugaris