

There have been many setbacks this year with the pandemic. Because of this, I support extending the Task Force's deadline for another year.