

Most of the University structure in the state is built upon the backs of hard working adjunct professors who string together jobs at different institutions to barely scrape by. The humane thing, the right thing, is to provide those who educate the youth of this state with healthcare! As a last year graduate student, I am looking to become one of these adjuncts, but if I cannot secure health care, I will move elsewhere, which represents a missed opportunity for this state. Do the right thing! Vote for health care for adjunct professors!
