

I oppose this attack on the ability of our most law-abiding citizens to defend themselves. This bill is simply a retaliatory measure against a demographic that its drafter despises, and should not be considered as a serious proposal by anyone who understands constitutional civil rights.