

In the last three biennia, the Oregon Legislature has dramatically increased resources to address Oregon's homeless crisis. As a funder OHCS has the responsibility to build a coordinated and concerted statewide response that focuses on outcomes for vulnerable Oregonians, ensures equitable services for all, and brings more seats to the table. House Bill 2100 opens the door to a new system that is inclusive and aligns with Oregon's Statewide Housing Plan.

	Current statute	HB 2100: Modernizing Oregon's Homeless System
Who can provide advice to OHCS and the Housing Stability Council on homeless services resources?	Community Action Partnership of Oregon	Community Action Partnership of Oregon, Oregonians with lived experiences of homelessness, tribes, public housing authorities, continuums of care, local governments, nonprofits, homeless service providers, culturally specific organizations, Veteran serving organizations, housing providers, and more.
What do the Oregon Revised Statutes governing homeless services say about racial equity?	Silent	HB 2100 includes multiple approaches to move toward racial equity in the homeless services system. The bill creates performance expectations for culturally responsive services and codifies performance standards for Community Action Agencies to engage culturally specific service providers in their planning. It also opens pathways for culturally specific service providers to advise OHCS on homeless service programs, and to apply directly for homeless service dollars within regional set-asides.
Who has direct access to OHCS homeless resources?	18 Community Action Agencies, exclusively and noncompetitively	Community Action Agencies, culturally specific organizations, Veteran serving organizations, youth homeless providers, senior housing providers, domestic violence shelter providers, cities, counties, school districts, and others.
How does the statute address the use of best practices and desired outcomes for homeless services?	Silent	HB 2100 would require outcome-oriented contracting for all homeless services funds and builds on years of work to center the end user—the Oregonian experiencing homelessness or housing instability. It would also create expectations for homeless service providers to use nationally and regionally recognized best practices for preventing and ending homelessness.
How does the statute address unsheltered homelessness?	Silent	HB 2100 establishes, for the first time in statute, the State Homelessness Assistance Program (SHAP) to serve all people experiencing homelessness, particularly unsheltered homelessness. SHAP is an existing program without statutory guidance.

How can OHCS drive resources to shelter solutions?	Silent. Shelter solutions are implied within formula funding to Community Action Agencies but are not expressly discussed in statute. HB 2100 creates opportunities for intentional initiatives to end unsheltered homelessness and allows OHCS to directly provide resources to shelter providers, which could include campaigns to end unsheltered family and youth homelessness and support for Veterans and seniors facing homelessness.
What is the geographical reach of homeless services funds?	Statewide. OHCS uses a needs-based formula to allocate resources to 18 Community Action Agencies. Statewide. OHCS will continue to use a needs-based formula to resources to all regions of the state. Within these regions, 80% will flow noncompetitively to Community Action Agencies. Within these regions, 20% of these funds will be available to all providers, including but not limited to Community Action Agencies, for concerted efforts to address populations experiencing disproportionately high rates of homelessness.
