

Oregon is overdue for a very damaging earthquake. It would truly be ironic if we eliminated the only agency within the state devoted to help us be prepared for this disaster just before a major quake occurs.