

This would allow criminals to vote on who the government decides who are criminals. There is already not enough consequences for people that commit crimes. If there was they wouldn't commit them.