

Once again social engineering and socialism reigns supreme behind the barbed wire fences and closed doors of D.C.. President Biden issues dictatorial executive orders against the oil industry that kills jobs and puts a multitude of people out of work along with negatively impacting the budgets of a number of states. While fanning the flames of civic unrest, this premature move creates the likelihood of another recession fueled by high gasoline and oil prices that Biden himself will be responsible for. Is a major pre-pandemic recession what you want by urging congress to enact climate change legislation? You can bet your bippi a recession is what you will get if they do!!!
