

Same objective could readily be had with inventory of public owned property or cordoned off roads and highways in major emergency. Already used method without large public objection.