

A history of racist behaviors is an indication that a police officer is unable to do their job properly and fairly.