

I grew up riding in Melbourne, Australia where lane sharing is standard practice. Like most things we enjoy in life, if it's done correctly it's safe and efficient.