

I oppose this unless strict rules around the speeds and circumstance where the practice would be allowed are put into place and ENFORCED. The enforcement of the rules around lane splitting is the number one issue cited by police with the current CA rules as well. With Oregon having textured lane markers, it makes it doubly dangerous for this type of driving and I have seen motorcyclists split lanes when there is no slowing of traffic.