

I STRONGLY OPPOSE

Taking seriously disabled or at life's end out of prisons and placing them on society with social benefits and returning to families that may not welcome them, putting a burden of care on them or into adult care homes without resources to pay, is not responsible government.