Measure: SB1521

School boards are elected by parents and other voters within their district to oversee local education matters. I strongly object to any changes that would inhibit a local school board's ability to terminate the employment of a superintendent, if they feel it is necessary to do so, whatever the reason. Board members are responsible to the voters, and the voters can remove them from office if they are unhappy with their actions. The state should not dictate to local school boards on this issue.
