We do not live on a farm. It doesn't take a farmer to realize why the BOLI AG laws or rules were created to be different from normal everyday working jobs.

Crops, harvests don't wait. They don't stop growing or maturing after 8 hours or on a labor timeline! They are not available to harvest five days a week for 52 weeks out of the year. What you are proposing is not only ludicrous and makes no common sense will devastate not only farmers but consumers. But if you can't figure that out, the only option left to think is that you're doing it on purpose because I know it can't be because you're not smart enough to know that, because you are or you wouldn't be in office, respectfully. Do not tear down OR.
