Measure: SB1589

Communities have been developed based on motor access to the rivers - marinas and piers built, etc.. The science isn't settled on damage to aquatic communities and river banks. An opposite and equally inappropriate approach is to ban residents from accessing the riverbanks for years: while plantings are allowed to grow and stabilize the riverbanks. It is equally polar.

Let's see a better bill showing more moderated solutions that don't infringe on motorboaters AND riverside residents.
