Gassing children in their homes while they sleep is a crime that the police did without accountability, in fact the police assaulted a homeowner that came out of his home without provocation. Many times I have seen the police protect nazis, proud boys and right wing terrorists. These same police then attack peaceful people. The accountability is absent because of the laws that are supposed to protect the public are perverted and twisted into another state agents ability to harm the innocent and sheild themselves from accountability.

Many of these police lie with impunity as a part of their offensive official duties. I point to the police trying to hide the identity of Benjamin Smith this week. The police are working with stochastic terrorist Andy Ngo.

With power unchecked those that kill with immunity are allowed to be judge, jury and executioner.

Oregon has a duty to protect Oregonians. Don't give the liars who facilitate false imprisonment of the innocent and the torture of people anything but a mandate to keep the peace
