

To whom it may concern,

Measure 110 is a complete failure. It needs to be repealed the only people this measure is helping are the people getting rich off the millions of dollars to try to control the drug addiction that this measure has created. It is a joke. No one walking the streets of Portland is getting the help they need. They are just walking along like zombies staying in their addiction and it is sad. It is inhumane. It is not logical to think that we can keep throwing money at a cause and it will go away. Nobody that is wondering the streets is going to ask for help unless they have consequences for their actions. I would like to see what Mike Schmidt says to his children when he is trying to discipline them, if he uses the same tactics he uses as in his profession I feel sorry for them. They will never learn up to know there is consequences for their actions.
