Hello,

My name is Angie, I consider myself a native of Portland. I'm a 3 generational Portlander with family and friends living all around the Portland area so I get to experience a little bit of everything when it comes to the rampant drug use and mentally unstable people that have ruined Portland. When I visit my sister who lives downtown I feel unsafe getting out of my car. Can't walk the streets without mace. Leaving my car parked is always a risk.

Wanted to do a little shopping at Nordstrom Rack was scared to get out of my car so I skipped shopping.

This is so heartbreaking as I've always been so proud of Portland's uniqueness and calling it my home. I've spent the last year in Charlotte NC and I was embarrassed to watch and listen people talk about Portland.

I felt more safe walking and riding my bike in a new city than my own home. Yes, there was homelessness but they weren't ZOOMBIES hurting people and rampant drug use, people passed out in yards looking as though they just died!

I want my beloved city back.
