

To the law makers,

I would be remiss if I didn't add myself to the growing voices of people that feel measure 110 should be repealed. Although some of the funding for treatment should remain, decriminalization has made it difficult for those people to hit a point for them to feel that they need treatment. Many I have talked to have said it wasn't until jail or the ability to get sober in jail, they would have continued to be on drugs and addicted. Repeal measure 110 now!
