

If future plans for changing M110 call for kicking it down to counties and letting decisions be made at the county level. I live in Jackson County. Just like neighboring Josephine County Jackson County Commissioners do NOT support M110 and want it repealed. Turning over implementation of M110 to county commissioners who do not support it is doomed for failure. My commissioners do not speak for all Jackson County residents who are not on their same page which will not support M110. Please reconsider giving M110 implementation to people who do not support it.
