

Please consider this public comment in opposing any road tolling.

Congestion is the direct result of poor government policies and priorities that favor inefficient, expensive and inconvenient public transportation and bicycle infrastructure at the expense of roads and automobiles that the vast majority of Oregonians favor.

Taxpayers, the majority of which want more roads, parking and ability to freely travel, are being forced into accepting the false climate change myth and control over our lives and well being. We've been paying for roads and we ask that you stop misusing those funds for your political agenda.

I for one, will never subject myself to the crime and herding of mass transit that creates your irrational need for more and more scarce dollars.

Richard Hiatt
Scappoose, Oregon