

I support more funding for transit for expansion and making it easier for the citizens to get around the Portland-Metro area, however in our car-centric environment that is very difficult.

Honestly, it's time for Tri-Met to REQUIRE fare and ENFORCE it..OR scrap the honor system and get funding through taxes and allow for a free public transit system.

Public services are not meant to MAKE money. Re-investing any money earned into the transit system, transit employees and safety of riders is tantamount and should be the most important goal. Go into debt, lower salaries for highest earners in Tri-Met...Public transit is to serve the public.

Thank you,
Steven Weldon
