As an avid cyclist I see the need for bicycle infrastructure daily in my rides around Portland. If we want to encourage more people to ride on our streets then we need to make our streets safer. the benefits of having more people ride a bike instead of driving a car are numerous and this is where our focus should be to create a sustainable planet. We do not need to spend billions of dollars on widening a freeway. Stop this insanity please, for our futures and our children's futures!
