AND RESEARCH OFFICE

Date/Time	December 3, 3 p.m. - 5 p.m. (link to recording)
Attendees	Chair Newberry Senator Woods Ameeta Agrawal Reza Alavi Justin Brookman David Edmonson Alan Fern Ellen Flint Jason Kistler Sara Tangdall Kelsey Wilson
Work Session Adoption of Final Recommendations	This was the final meeting of the Joint Task Force on Artificial Intelligence. Chair Newberry opened a work session. LPRO staff walked members through the process of making a motion to adopt recommendations, reviewed the draft recommendations, and noted that a quorum was present. Members discussed potential conflict between recommending use of the European Union’s (EU) Artificial Intelligence Act, while also recommending caution when using other jurisdictions’ statutory terms. Chair Newberry noted the recommendations suggest using caution with using terms from other states’ or countries’ legislation, but do not prohibit doing so, and that they are recommending the EU Act as a secondary source rather than a primary source. Members suggested clarifying language for the guideline “Exercise caution when adopting other states’ AI definitions, as statutory terms change and differ between states.” The word “states” was changed to “jurisdictions,” while the sentence was shortened to remove “between states” from the end. LPRO made these adjustments on screen prior to members making a motion to adopt revised recommendations. A member made a motion to adopt the task force recommendations. All 10 voting members present voted in favor of adopting the recommendations to the legislature, and Chair Newberry closed the work session.
Reflections and Next Steps	Chair Newberry opened the floor for members to make final remarks to the task force. Members noted the difficulty of the work, and they made positive remarks regarding approach, civility, and engagement. LPRO thanked members for their participation and service.

Next steps include incorporating the updated recommendations in the task force report and submitting the final report to the Oregon Legislature on December 13. LPRO will send members the final report prior to that date.
