ISSUES DISCUSSED:

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT:

No amendment.

BACKGROUND:

An employer of record for direct support professionals who are providing in-home services and supports to an individual can provide certain agency with choice services: coordinating the schedules and responsibilities of direct support professionals who are providing in-home services and supports to the individual; for each direct support professional providing in-home services and supports to the individual, withholding, filing and paying income and employment-related taxes, including workers' compensation premiums and unemployment taxes; verifying the qualifications of each direct support professional; and providing other administrative and employment-related supports. The Department of Human Service (DHS) can certify agencies to deliver agency with choice services as a community-based services option under ORS 427.007. DHS cannot certify consumer-directed employers if the owner of the agency or an executive officer of the agency has been convicted of Medicaid fraud in any state within the 25-year period prior to the certification.

Agencies that contract with the Department of Human Services to provide agency with choice services are called consumer-directed employers. Currently, consumer directed employer must demonstrate the ability or commitment to:

- provide support for individuals in directing the individual's direct support professional and the day-to-day services;
- recruit and retain a high-quality and diverse workforce;
- work with a broad coalition of stakeholders in an effort to understand the changing needs of the workforce and individuals;
- meet the state's interest in preventing or mitigating disruptions to individuals' in-home services and supports; and
- implement an electronic visit verification system that complies with state and federal requirements.

Senate Bill 570 specifies additional requirements for consumer-directed employers and requires DHS to contract with up to two consumer-directed employers to provide agency with choice services.
