Clarifies a local government may adopt and apply only clear and objective standards, conditions, and procedures regulating the development of housing and needed housing on land within an urban growth boundary. Removes limitation that alternative local government approval process include criteria regulating appearance or aesthetics of residential development projects. Extends, effective July 1, 2025, the same provisions regarding clear and objective standards to unincorporated communities designated in a county's acknowledged comprehensive plan after December 5, 1994, nonresource lands, and areas zoned for rural residential use as defined in ORS 215.501. Local governments may deny or condition the approval of applications for housing development based on a variety of factors, including whether the application proposes to develop on land zoned for residential uses and the nature of the property ownership.

Senate Bill 1051 (2017) clarified that jurisdictions must approve an application for all housing development within an urban growth boundary if it meets the clear and objective standards outlined within the city or county comprehensive plan or zoning ordinances. According to the Department of Land Conservation and Development, these requirements have posed some challenges for local governments with subjective code provisions. Further, 2021 decision by the Land Use Board of Appeals (LUBA) ruled that the clear and objective standards provisions adopted in 2017 apply to all housing development, regardless of its location.

House Bill 3197 clarifies a local government may adopt and apply only clear and objective standards, conditions, and procedures regulating housing development on land within an urban growth boundary. The measure also
