BACKGROUND:

Current law (ORS 408.290) entitles public employees serving in the National Guard, Guard Reserve, or a reserve component of the Armed Forces or Public Health Service, a 15-day leave of absence without loss of time, pay or regular leave, or other benefits, for initial or annual active-duty training.

Trainings for the Oregon National Guard are usually one weekend a month and two weeks per year. The two-day trainings are typically on weekends, but occasionally Guard members are asked to report on a Friday. Annual trainings can run longer than two weeks, depending on military occupational specialties.

House Bill 2865 A entitles public employees who are members of the National Guard, National Guard Reserve, or any reserve component of the Armed Forces or Public Health Service, military leave of absence from duties for up to 21 workdays a year.
