SUMMARY

Directs Department of Corrections to determine last-known address of adults in custody, if address is readily known or available to adult in custody, and submit information to Secretary of State. Directs secretary to adjust population data reported in federal decennial census to reflect residence status of adults in custody before incarceration.

Requires Legislative Assembly or Secretary of State, whichever is applicable, to reapportion state into legislative districts based on adjusted population data. Requires use of adjusted population data to apportion county or municipal boundaries.

OPEN GOVERNMENT IMPACT

Legislative Counsel has not adopted standards for drafting measures that establish exemptions from disclosure of public records.

This measure prohibits the public disclosure of personally identifiable information provided to the Secretary of State by the Department of Corrections for the purpose of adjusting the federal decennial census to remove adults in custody from the population count of the geographic unit of the facility of incarceration and to add them to the geographic unit of their last known address prior to incarceration for redistricting purposes.

If those public records that could be subject to public disclosure were instead subject to mandatory disclosure under public records law, the public could receive personally identifiable information of adults in the custody of the Department of Corrections.
