(B) The tenant has a defense to an action for possession by the landlord.

(b) A tenant is entitled to recovery under paragraph (a) of this subsection if the tenant commences an action asserting the claim within one year after the tenant knew or should have known that the landlord terminated the tenancy in violation of this section.

In addition, the landlord may recover from the tenant any actual damages resulting from the tenant holding over, including the value of any rent accruing from the expiration or termination of the rental agreement until the landlord knows or should know that the tenant has relinquished possession to the landlord. If the landlord consents to the tenant's continued occupancy, ORS 90.220 (7) applies.

An explanation does not give the person receiving the notice of termination a right to cure the reason if the notice states that:

(A) The notice is given without stated cause;
(B) The recipient of the notice does not have a right to cure the reason for the termination; and
(C) The person giving the notice need not have a right to cure the reason for the termination; and

(13) Subsections (2) to (9) of this section do not apply to a month-to-month tenancy subject to ORS 90.429 or other tenancy created by a rental agreement subject to ORS 90.505 to 90.850.
