Defines “abortion” and “health care provider.” Prohibits abortion of unborn child with probable gestational age of 15 or more weeks, except in case of medical emergency. Allows specified persons to bring action against health care provider for violations. Requires health care provider who performs or induces, or attempts to perform or induce, abortion to file report with Oregon Health Authority. Requires authority to publish annually statistics relating to abortion. Allows specified persons to bring cause of action for actual and punitive damages and injunctive relief against health care provider for violation.

Takes effect on 91st day following adjournment sine die.

A BILL FOR AN ACT
Relating to abortion restrictions; creating new provisions; amending ORS 435.496, 677.190 and 678.111; and prescribing an effective date.

Whereas medical and other authorities know more about human prenatal development now than ever before; and

Whereas the assertion by some medical experts that an unborn child is incapable of experiencing pain until later than 24 weeks gestational age predominantly rests on the assumption that the ability to experience pain depends on the cerebral cortex and requires nerve connections between the thalamus and the cortex; and

Whereas medical research and analysis since 2007 provides strong evidence for the conclusion that a functioning cortex is not necessary to experience pain; and

Whereas substantial evidence indicates that children born missing the bulk of the cerebral cortex, such as those with hydraencephaly, nevertheless experience pain; and

Whereas substantial evidence indicates that neural elements, such as the thalamus and subcortical plate, serve as pain processing centers for an unborn child and show signs of sufficient maturation beginning at 15 weeks gestational age; and

Whereas in adult humans and in animals stimulation or ablation of the cerebral cortex does not alter pain perception, while stimulation or ablation of the thalamus does alter pain perception; and

Whereas pain receptors begin forming at seven weeks gestational age, and nerve fibers linking pain receptors to the brain’s thalamus and subcortical plate form between 12 and 20 weeks gestational age; and

Whereas the first contact between the subcortical plate and the forming nerve fibers occurs no later than 16 weeks gestational age; and

Whereas the application of painful stimuli to an unborn child is associated with significant increases in stress hormones known as the stress response; and

Whereas subjection to painful stimuli is associated with long-term harmful neurodevelopmental effects, such as altered pain sensitivity and, possibly, emotional, behavioral and learning disabilities.

later in life; and

Whereas fetal anesthesia is routinely administered to unborn children for purposes of surgery and is associated with a decrease in the level of stress hormones compared to the level of stress hormones without the administration of anesthesia; and

Whereas fetal surgeons have found it necessary to sedate an unborn child with anesthesia to prevent the unborn child from engaging in vigorous movement in reaction to invasive surgery; and

Whereas doctors have concluded that an unborn child is extremely sensitive to painful stimuli by 15 weeks, and as early as 12 weeks, gestational age, making adequate analgesia and anesthesia necessary for invasive medical procedures performed on an unborn child to prevent fetal suffering; now, therefore,

Be It Enacted by the People of the State of Oregon:

SECTION 1. As used in sections 1 to 9 of this 2023 Act:

(1) “Abortion” means the use or prescription of any instrument, medicine, drug or any other substance or device to terminate the pregnancy of a person known to be pregnant, if the intention is other than to increase the probability of a live birth, to preserve the life or health of the child after live birth or to remove a dead unborn child who died as the result of natural causes in utero, accidental trauma or a criminal assault on the pregnant person or their unborn child, and that use or prescription causes the premature termination of the pregnancy.

(2) “Attempt to perform or induce an abortion” means an act, or an omission of a statutorily required act, that, under the circumstances as the actor believes them to be, constitutes a substantial step in a course of conduct planned to culminate in the performance or induction of an abortion.

(3) “Fertilization” means the fusion of a human spermatozoon with a human ovum.

(4) “Health care provider” means:
(a) A physician licensed under ORS chapter 677; (b) A physician assistant licensed under ORS 677.505 to 677.525; and (c) A nurse practitioner licensed under ORS 678.375 to 678.390.

(5) “Probable gestational age” means the duration of the pregnancy at the time the abortion is to be performed or induced.

(6) “Reasonable medical judgment” means a medical judgment that would be made by a reasonably prudent health care provider who is knowledgeable about the case and the treatment possibilities with respect to the medical conditions involved.

(7) “Unborn child” means an individual organism of the species Homo sapiens from fertilization until live birth.

SECTION 2. (1) A pregnant person’s condition is a medical emergency for purposes of sections 3 and 4 of this 2023 Act if, in the professional judgment of the health care provider: (a) Failure to immediately terminate the pregnancy is reasonably likely to result in the pregnant person’s death; or (b) The delay necessary to determine the probable gestational age as required under sections 3 and 4 of this 2023 Act is reasonably likely to create a serious risk of substantial and irreversible physical impairment of one or more of the pregnant person’s major bodily functions, not including psychological or emotional functions.

(2) A pregnant person’s likelihood to engage in conduct that will result in the pregnant person’s death or in substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function is not a medical emergency for purposes of sections 3 and 4 of this 2023 Act.

SECTION 3. (1) Except in the case of a medical emergency that prevents compliance with this section, a person may not perform or induce, or attempt to perform or induce, an abortion unless a health care provider has first made a determination of the probable gestational age of the unborn child.

(2) In making the determination required by subsection (1) of this section, the health care provider shall make the inquiries of the person who is pregnant and perform or cause to be performed the medical examinations and tests that a reasonably prudent health care provider who is knowledgeable about the case and the medical conditions involved would make and perform to make an accurate diagnosis with respect to the probable gestational age.

SECTION 4. (1) Except in the event of a medical emergency, a person may not perform or induce, or attempt to perform or induce, an abortion when a health care provider has determined that the probable gestational age of the unborn child is 15 or more weeks.

(2) When a health care provider terminates a pregnancy that is not prohibited under this section because of a medical emergency, the health care provider shall terminate the pregnancy in the manner that, in reasonable medical judgment, provides the best opportunity for the unborn child to survive, unless, in reasonable medical judgment, termination of the pregnancy in that manner would pose a greater risk of the death of the pregnant person or of the substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the person, other than psychological or emotional functions, than other available methods. The likelihood that the person who is pregnant will engage in conduct that would result in the person's death or in substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function does not constitute a greater risk under this subsection.

SECTION 5. (1) In addition to the reporting requirements under ORS 432.075 and 435.496, a health care provider who performs or induces, or attempts to perform or induce, an abortion, shall report to the Oregon Health Authority in accordance with rules adopted by the authority. The report must include:

(a) If a determination of probable gestational age was made, the probable gestational age determined and the method and basis of the determination;

(b) If a determination of probable gestational age was not made or the probable gestational age was determined to be 15 or more weeks, the basis of the determination that a medical emergency existed;

(c) The method used for the abortion and, in the case of a termination performed when the probable gestational age was determined to be 15 or more weeks:

(A) Whether the method used was one that, in reasonable medical judgment, provided the best opportunity for the unborn child to survive; or

(B) If the method used did not provide the best opportunity for the unborn child to survive, the basis of the determination that termination of the pregnancy in that manner would pose a greater risk of the death of the pregnant person or of the substantial and irreversible physical impairment of a major bodily function of the person, other than psychological or emotional functions, than other available methods;

(d) Whether an intra-fetal injection was used in an attempt to induce fetal demise; and

(e) The age and race of the person whose pregnancy was terminated or attempted to be terminated.
(2) The reports required by this section:
   (a) May not include the name, address or other information that individually identifies the person whose pregnancy was terminated or attempted to be terminated.
   (b) Must include a unique medical record identifying number that correlates to the person’s medical record.
(3)(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection, the reports submitted under this section are confidential and exempt from disclosure under ORS 192.311 to 192.478.
   (b) The reports submitted under this section may be released:
       (A) To the Attorney General or a district attorney with appropriate jurisdiction pursuant to a civil or criminal investigation; or (B) Pursuant to a court order in an action brought under section 6 of this 2023 Act.
(4) The authority may adopt rules to carry out this section, including rules regarding the schedule on which a health care provider described in this section is required to submit the report described in this section.

SECTION 6. Intentional or reckless failure by a health care provider to meet the requirements of section 5 of this 2023 Act:
   (1) Constitutes unprofessional conduct for purposes of ORS 677.190.
   (2) May be the basis for disciplinary action under ORS 678.111.

SECTION 7. (1) On or before June 30 of each year, the Oregon Health Authority shall issue a public report of statistics relating to abortion. The public report must include: (a) Statistics for the previous calendar year compiled from the reports submitted under section 5 of this 2023 Act.
   (b) Statistics for all previous calendar years in which reports were submitted under sec-section 5 of this 2023 Act, adjusted to reflect any additional information from late or corrected reports.
   (2) The authority may not include individually identifiable information in the public report.

SECTION 8. (1)(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this subsection, a person whose pregnancy was terminated or attempted to be terminated in violation of section 3 or 4 of this 2023 Act, or the person responsible for the fertilization that resulted in the pregnancy that is the subject of the abortion, may maintain an action against the health care provider who performed or induced, or attempted to perform or induce, the abortion for actual and punitive damages.
   (b) Damages may not be awarded under this subsection if the pregnancy described in paragraph (a) of this subsection was the result of criminal conduct by the person responsible for fertilization that resulted in the pregnancy described in this subsection.
   (2) A cause of action for injunctive relief against a health care provider who intentionally or recklessly violates section 3 or 4 of this 2023 Act may be brought against the health care provider by:
       (a) A person whose pregnancy was terminated or attempted to be terminated, if the person was not at least 18 years of age at the time of the abortion; (b) The representative of a person whose pregnancy was terminated or attempted to be terminated if the person died as a result of the abortion; (c) The person responsible for the fertilization that resulted in the pregnancy of the person whose pregnancy was terminated or attempted to be terminated; (d) A prosecuting attorney with competent jurisdiction; or (e) The Attorney General.

(3) Injunctive relief may not be granted to the person responsible for fertilization that resulted in the pregnancy that is the subject of the abortion described in subsection (1)(a) of this section if the pregnancy is the result of criminal conduct by the person described in this subsection.

(4) If the plaintiff prevails in the action described in this section, the court shall also award reasonable attorney fees to the plaintiff.

(5) If the defendant prevails in the action described in this section, and the court finds that the action was frivolous and brought in bad faith, the court shall award attorney fees to the defendant.

SECTION 9. (1) In any action or proceeding brought under section 8 of this 2023 Act, the court shall determine whether the anonymity of a person whose pregnancy was terminated or attempted to be terminated must be exempt from public disclosure under ORS 192.311 to 192.478 if the person does not consent to disclosure.

(2) If the court determines that the person's anonymity must be preserved, the court shall issue orders to the parties, witnesses and counsel, direct the sealing of the record and order exclusion from the courtroom or hearing room all persons who are not parties, wittesses or counsel. The orders described in this subsection must be accompanied by written findings that explain why the person's anonymity must be preserved, why the order is estential to that end, how the order is narrowly tailored to serve that interest and why no reasonable less-restrictive alternative exists.

(3) If the person described in subsection (1) of this section does not consent to disclose the person's identity, any person other than a public official who brings an action under section 8 of this 2023 Act that is related to the person's pregnancy shall bring the action under a pseudonym.

(4) This section may not be construed to conceal the identity of the plaintiff or witnesses from the defendant or defendant's counsel.

SECTION 10. ORS 435.496 is amended to read:

435.496. (1) Each induced termination of pregnancy which occurs in this state, regardless of the length of gestation, shall be reported to the Center for Health Statistics within 30 days by the person in charge of the institution in which the induced termination of pregnancy was performed. If the induced termination of pregnancy was performed outside an institution, the attending physician [or the naturopathic physician] shall prepare and file the report.

(2) If the person who is required to file the report under subsection (1) of this section has knowledge that the person [who underwent the induced termination of pregnancy] whose pregnancy was terminated also underwent a follow-up visit or had follow-up contact with a health care provider, the person shall include the fact of the follow-up visit or contact, and whether any complications were noted, in the report. If the person filing the report is not personally aware of the follow-up visit or contact but was informed of the visit or contact, the person shall include the source of that information in the report.

(3) Reports submitted under this section [shall] may not disclose the [names or identities of the parents] name or identity of the person whose pregnancy was terminated.
