Measure: HB3409

Pushing further dependency on electric only is foolish and expensive. Electric distribution has proven not to be reliable during the most critical heating and food preparation times. Our electric in Oregon has a carbon footprint and this continues to be ignored. Proven studies have shown that eliminating natural gas as an alternative energy source would reduce Oregon's carbon footprint by 15 through 2050 while costing the consumer undue financial burdens. No on this poorly designed bill.
