Measure: SB420

To whom it may concern,

I am a 36 year old male, who over the last 15 years has tried many different ways to improve my health, my position in society, and my over all demeanor. I have succeeded on some accounts, others well, lets just say I haven't been as fortunate to know what to do next in order to actually MAKE improvements on my life. Or to be perfectly frank, I would say YOU people have been the ones "in CHARGE" while we've been lagging WAY behind because there's no one to tell us where to go next after we've finished everything they've TOLD us would "help".

I'm not saying that the things they told us to do would help didn't help, some of them actually do help your general situation, but there is a LOT that's out there that I'm sure SHOULD have been told to me to get my head right, but that isn't the case. It's more like WE ourselves have to (and more importantly) people who take care of us when we're hurt like moms and dads and brothers and sisters and cousins and ANYONE who you know that not SCARED of brain injury's would have to search and find whatever they could that looks like a good fit for who YOU are and what happened to YOU.

Please take a good look at Senate Bill #420 and make the RIGHT choice for brain injured people like myself.

Injury: TBI - Severe

Date of Injury: July 3, 2007
